Dear Sir,

This is to certify that Dr.K.Ulagapriya, Associate Professor/Department of Computer Science and Engineering, faculty of Vels Institute of Science Technology and Advanced Studies, gave the presentation in Technical Seminar on "MACHINE LEARNING PARADIGMS". This program was attended by second and third year students of Computer Engineering & Information Technology department. She explained the various algorithms in Machine Learning which was useful to final year students for betterment of their 6th semester Project work and End semester project presentation. This program was also useful to understand basic concepts in Machine Learning for 2nd year students so that they can do Mini projects in future. The feedback collected from the participants are very impressive.

Thanking You
