

Placement Training Orientation for Pre-Final Year Nursing Students

An orientation program on placement training was conducted for the pre-final year nursing students of VELS Nursing College on 24th February 2025. The session was led by Dr. Annie Sam, focusing on preparing students for future career opportunities in the healthcare sector.

Dr. Annie Sam provided valuable insights into the placement process, current trends in the healthcare job market, and essential skills required for successful employment. The session aimed to build awareness and boost the confidence of nursing students as they prepare to transition from academics to professional roles
